Miniaturstück I
Acousmatic music (octophonic)
2010

Miniaturstück I is a short acousmatic piece based on only one sound: my own sneeze. The sound, approximately six seconds in duration is treated with several and different DSP functions such as: granular synthesis, time-stretching, pitch-shift, comb filters, delays and extreme reverberation.

The intrinsic dramaturgy of the composition is based on how this sound can be perceived outside its natural context, leaving therefore all the weight of the dramaturgical context on the side of the listener.

The duration of the piece is 4 minutes.
